Hi George,

I know you already submitted but I just noticed another PERFECT spot for trees in Hollywood.

Santa Monica Blvd between gower and el centro on the north side of the street has a massive sidewalk and - from what I could tell while skating by - zero planters.

The sidewalk west between el centro and vine is equally wide and has a couple planters but the trees there are pretty weak... :/

Anyway - just letting you know! Hope something can be done.

Thanks again,

Hi Priv vacy :

Thanks for the heads-up.

This location is actually in my colleague Sean's area, who is copied here.

Best,
George
